Shetland Community Drugs Project – Gill Hession

merged in

Ms G Hession, Manager, Community Alcohol & Drugs Services Shetland (CADSS), stated Community Drugs Team was established ten years ago and was September 2007 to become CADSS.

indications

She advised that ten years ago there were only “pockets” of heroin use but over the last 3-4 years there had been a large increase. There were worrying that younger problem drug users were on the increase.

started

Ms G Hession stated there were distinct indications that younger problem drug users drank alcohol first, and at a younger age, than older drug users. The average age that CADSS new clients started using drugs was 14, and the average age using alcohol 12.

problem alcohol.

She stated that she was seeing, for the first time, that the culture of drug use was matched by problem drink use, problem drug users were now developing alcohol use and vica-versa; previously people were either using drugs or

She advised that 3-4 years ago there was a switch from cannabis to Heroin as there was a perception that the trained Drugs dogs could not smell Heroin (untrue) and so it was safer to use illegal Heroin than illegal cannabis. Dealers would also say they had no cannabis in order to encourage the use of heroin as an alternative.

Ms G Hession noted that most drug abusers state they were drunk when they first tried Heroin and they had no idea it was addictive.

However, the positive news was that people who used drugs at a younger age tended to seek help much earlier.

She stated that 39% of new problem drug users were aged under 24 or younger and statistics from 2009/10 show that 128 heroin users keyed into CADSS services, young people making up 38% of the total.

total million

Ms G Hession stated that last year £1,600,000 was spent on drugs, mainly heroin, in Shetland, by new problem drug users presenting to CADSS services. The amount new and existing problem drug users spent in a year was around 3-4 pounds. Considering that there are assumed to be as many again, problem drug users in Shetland who are not using CADSS services, we can conclude that approximately 8-10 million pounds is being spent in Shetland on an annual basis. Therefore this is money out of the Shetland economy and into the pockets of drug dealers.

basis. of drug

Mr E Knight asked what the difference was between a recreational drug user and a drug addict.

Ms G Hession replied many people use drugs now and again but an addict could spend £20-£200 per day.

She stated a lot of young women started taking heroin because an older boyfriend used or was a drinker who mixed with users.

She noted it was true to say that often the people who presented at CADSS were not able to cope with life as well as others.

Cllr J Wills asked what could be done to help with the problem.

Justice
SIC, going

Ms G Hession replied that CADSS was not a small organisation and already doing much to address the issue, as were CADSS partnerships, including Criminal and Social Care as well as others. Funding for CADSS was received from Scottish Government, Lottery and donations but, she advised, everyone was to have to work harder and cheaper.

She stated it was very important for children to be educated in schools, "Just say no" worked for some but not all.

She stated that alcohol abuse issues had to be addressed or young people would continue to use drugs.

Mr E Knight stated that due to Shetland's relatively small community people using Class A drugs must be known. He asked why people in possession were not targeted.

Ms G Hession responded that the dealers were the issue and the only thing that worked was to cut off the supply. She stated that targeting users would only make them go underground.

Cllr C Smith stated he was a great believer in prevention and not enough research was going in to prevent dealers coming into Shetland. He asked why more was not being done to educate children in schools and encourage parental participation.

He advised that an alcohol and drugs meeting held 14 months ago, at Anderson High School, had only 5 attendees.

Mr E Knight stated he was surprised to learn young people thought heroin was not addictive and stated the facts should be taught in school.

use CADSS
heroin

Ms G Hession advised CADSS' Young Person's Worker delivered drug and alcohol education in most of Shetland's schools. In light of the increase in heroin was reviewing its education to older pupils to include concerns regarding use.

Mrs A Simpson, also a member of Shetland Alcohol and Drugs Team (SADAT), stated that school teachers also provided an element of drugs education.

Mr M Peterson asked if 3-4 million was spent on drugs last year was there a calculation for how much had been spent on alcohol.

Ms G Hession responded that she would find out what the figure was and advise the Clerk of the Council.

Mrs A Simpson asked where the money came from, to spend on drugs.

Ms G Hession replied that the money came from earnings, benefits, parents or crime.

Cllr J Wills stated that prevention should be easier in the Isles and enquired how the drugs were being brought to Shetland and if the Police had the resources to prevent it.

Ms G Hession stated drug dealers were very clever and had plans in place to get rid of drugs if it was apparent Police were making searches. One solution would be to check every single person coming onto the Island but there were not enough resources to do that.

The Chairman asked what sort of volume £10,000 worth of heroin represented.

Ms G Hession replied that £1,000,000 worth of Heroin would be about the size of a bag of sugar.

relieve pain Mr M Peterson asked if the Drugs Dogs could be trained to detect heroin only, not cannabis. He raised concern that people who had to use cannabis to were getting a bad name.

Ms G Hession did not think the suggestion would be something which could be persuaded.

Cllr J Wills asked for Ms G Hession's opinion on legalising heroin.

Ms G Hession replied, "Why on earth would anyone consider making it normal" and stated "she would not support that".

Cllr J Wills stated that as it was clear no one could physically prevent all drugs coming onto the Island the best approach may be to educate children and parents.

messages", for the only used alcohol Ms G Hession advised that we all needed to be aware of how we use alcohol in front of our children. She stated that adults often gave out "mixed example, by taking a drink after work "to relax". If children thought that time they see a parent happy, relaxed or sociable was when they they would associate mind altering substances with being happy.

Mr M Peterson asked when drug misuse began.

Ms G Hession replied it was her understanding that it was in the eighties, during the oil years.

Mr M Peterson enquired what proportion of drug users were not from Shetland.

CADSS Ms G Hession responded that ten years ago 87% of problem drug users were not born /brought up in Shetland. However, last year it was noted that 87% of problem drug users were born/brought up in Shetland.

Mr W Spence noted people could visit a pub to drink almost any time of day.

to the Ms G Hession stated the biggest problem was the supermarkets and advertising. and noted sales of vodka had increased by 14,600% in 5 years, mainly due promotion of alcopops.

Cllr J Wills asked if it would be possible for Ms G Hession to make another presentation in a year's time.

Ms G Hession advised she would be happy to.

The Chairman thanked Ms G Hession for her interesting and informative presentation.

The presentation concluded at 8.15pm.

9.5 Section 36 Application for the Proposed Viking Energy Wind Farm, Shetland

UK

Cllr J Wills proposed that the response could be, "This Community Council commends Viking Energy on its effort made to meet the concerns of objectors but remains of the opinion that the development is too large and that its size appears to be a direct result of the funding agreement for the cable to the Mainland".

Cllr C Smith declared an interest.

Cllr J Wills also declared an interest.

Mr M Peterson asked if Cllr Wills proposal still stood even though he was declaring an interest.

Cllr J Wills confirmed his proposal stood. He stated the entire cost of the cable should be funded in the traditional manner.

Mrs A Simpson commented that it seemed strange that although the overall size of the project was only reduced by 15% the carbon payback of 14.9 years was reduced to 1 year; she noted she could not take the application seriously.

Cllr J Wills responded that the original way of calculating the carbon payback was wrong.

The Chairman stated it was his personal opinion that when you paid professionals they would say whatever you wanted them to say; he suggested a referendum would be more appropriate.

Mr M Peterson put forward the motion that Lerwick Community Council repeats the view that the proposal, even as amended, is still too large.

Cllr J Wills suggested a public enquiry could be requested.

Mr M Peterson withdrew his original motion.

Mr M Peterson put forward the motion that the proposal is objected to on the same grounds as the original objection, the proposed wind farm is still too large.

Cllr J Wills seconded the motion.

Members agreed the Clerk of the Council should check the details of original objection and object on the same grounds.

Mr M Peterson enquired why Lerwick Community Council was not consulted regarding the naming of 'Brae Court'.

The Chairman advised that as the development was private there was no requirement for Lerwick Community Council to be consulted.

Mr M Peterson pointed out the name 'Brae' was associated with a hill but the area on which the development now named 'Brae Court' stood, was flat.

The Chairman asked the Clerk of the Council to write to Mr L Irvine, Irvine Contractors and enquire as to the thinking behind the place name chosen.

(Action: Clerk of the Council)

Mr M Peterson noted that Council owned grass areas were cut thirteen times each year; he thought this a little excessive.

Cllr J Wills stated Shetland Islands Council "were looking into it".

Crime

Mr M Peterson stated he had helped staff at Tesco apprehend a shoplifter. He suggested that the "one way ticket" off the island approach, could be reinstated as a solution.

Members' general consensus was that this was not a suitable approach for dealing with shoplifters.

Mr M Peterson stated he would "explore" the possibility himself, with the Sheriff Clerk.

Steps at Matchbox

The Chairman read out a letter which arrived too late to be included in the agenda but was brought to the meeting for discussion.

In the letter Mr G Greenhill, Executive Director, Infrastructure Services, SIC advised that he was hopeful work would begin on reinstating the steps in mid weather permitting.
